GLOVER PARK HARDWARE CELEBRATES GRAND RE-OPENING Locally owned Ace Hardware reopens its doors with a celebration and sale on June 5

WASHINGTON, D.C. (May 24, 2016) — Neighborhood staple Glover Park Hardware celebrates their 12th year of business and new location at 2233 Wisconsin Ave NW with a grand re-opening event!

As part of the grand re-opening celebration, customers can shop 20% off the entire store all day on June 5, with the exception of sale items, grills, appliances, and power tools. A customer appreciation reception from 12-4pm offers wine, grilling, and live music on the patio of neighboring business Breadsoda. Festivities continue inside the store with color consultations by Valspar, meet & greet with staff and the store owners, and complimentary hors d'oeuvres and sweets sponsored by fellow co-ops National Cooperative Bank (NCB) and Cabot Creamery Cooperative.

Glover Park Hardware first opened in 2005 by A Few Cool Hardware Stores' owners Gina Schaefer and Marc Friedman, who also own 10 additional locations across the Delmarva region. The store reopened their doors in February 2016 after a year-long relocation process, welcoming back their customers in Glover Park and much of the original staff from the previous storefront, just 1 block North of the new location.

Updates regarding the grand re-opening event will be posted on their website at www.acehardwaredc.com, and via email and social media.
